

Conclusion

Remember

Congratulations! You have completed this wonderful adventure through the Holocaust and WWII. You took on the role as Historical Web Designers and designed a magnificent Website to honor the memory of those lost in the Holocaust.

Now that you have shown the community, sit back and wait for the ballots to be counted to find out who gets their online memorial sent out.

I hope you had lots of fun and took something away from this! From this project you should know and understand that the actions taken during WWII and the Holocaust resulted in negative consequences. You should understand that the Holocaust was a dramatic and emotionally changing event that affected the world. You should now have an understanding of how the Holocaust altered the lives of the individuals affected, whether they were Jewish or not. The Holocaust changed the way that people learn about history today. You should take this experience and the knowledge that you have gained and learn from it so that you can better understand what is going on in the world today and make a better world for tomorrow. Remember those that were both effected by and part of the Holocaust. Take their stories and learn from them. Remember.
